NOTICE.

Any writing on blank leaves, or margin of the pages, or defacing books in any way, will be regarded as a misdemeanor, and punishable as such.

By order of the
BOARD OF INSPECTORS.

RULES OF THE LIBRARY.

MORAL INSTRUCTOR.

The Library is under the Supervision of the Moral Instructor.

LIBRARIAN.

The Librarian will have the general care of the books, and attend to their receipt and delivery, supplying each prisoner, as herein after provided, with books once every to weeks.

OFFICERS.

Any Officer of the Prison desiring a book from the Library, can procure the same from the Librarian upon application.

PRISONERS.

Each prisoner, able to read, will be furnished slate and pencil, and on the slate will write the numbers of fifty or more books, selected from the catalogue supplied to each cell. Keep the numbers in consecutive order to enable the Librarian to secure the book or books promptly.

If any special book is desired, make some mark against the number—for example, x 573—writing the numbers thus marked in the upper left hand corner of the slate, being careful to add numbers to take the places of those books which have been supplied.

027.671
P41c
1903

Leave on the slate any numbers or marks placed on it by the Librarian.

Keep the slate clean and hang it up with the catalogue when not in use.

Use only the back of the card-slate for putting down numbers.

Make the figures neat and plain, and re-write them if not easily read.

Should the Librarian be unable to supply any of the numbers desired, he will, in his discretion select a book or books suitable, which will not be exchanged, except at the regular period.

This catalogue must be kept clean and whole. No writing on margins of leaves or blank space will be permitted.

Books received by the prisoner from the Library must be kept clean and whole, ordinary usage excepted.

Any pencil or ink-marks on margins, blank spaces or leaves, engravings or bindings, or wilful defacing of illustration, or tearing out of leaves or engravings will be regarded as a misdemeanor and punishable by the Warden.

These rules must be strictly complied with by each prisoner.

Any prisoner who shall be under discipline for violation of the Rules of the Prison, will be deprived of books, until such time as the privelege be restored by order of the Warden.

Any exchange of books between prisoners will be regarded as a violation of the Rules of the Library, and will subject the individual so exchanging books to the loss of the use of the Library altogether.

Make all requests for books, etc., or information concerning the same, to the Librarian when collecting and not delivering books.

School-books may be kept three (3) months, they must then be returned to the Librarian for examination and repair.

A word as to the care of books: Never lay a book down with the leaves opened, as doing so has a tendency to weaken the back and binding and cause the early disintegration of same. Treat the books intrusted to your care as though they were some friend.

Every book contains something applicable to each of us, and we should try to eradicate those faults and habits which are not conducive to honesty, truthfulness and morality.

"Knowledge is Power," and we should endeavor to use to our profit some of the good things thinking men have said and written, and not waste our time on such as are only remembered while being read.

JOSEPH WELCH,

Moral Instructor.
